

VDHR to Release New Electronic Project Review Application

Summer 2010

The Virginia Department of Historic Resources (VDHR) is expected to release its new electronic project review application later this summer. The application will be referred to as ePIX, an acronym for "electronic project information exchange." Once released, VDHR will require all new projects be submitted via ePIX. The application will enable project sponsors to:

- Receive confirmation of project receipt;
- Track review progress;
- Upload project documentation including reports, plans, and other supporting materials regardless of file size;
- Ensure that earlier phases of projects already reviewed are appropriately associated with subsequent or proposed project phases; and
- Receive VDHR concurrence or comments electronically.

In addition, ePIX will require initial project submissions to define the project's Area of Potential Effects (both direct and indirect), as well articulate a plan for public involvement and Tribal participation.

Dutton + Associates will continue to update you on the VDHR's timeline for releasing ePIX. You can also check for updates at www.dutton-associates.com or at www.dhr.virginia.gov.
